NARRATIVE REPORT

☐ INTERIM☒ FINAL

[redacted] managed its internal program well. 25X1
The overall program; however, was deficient in both motivation and management. That the program achieved its technical purpose was due largely to the contract monitor shore up these deficiencies.

[redacted] did not adequately direct or 25X1 monitor its subcontractor, [redacted] It had to be pushed 25X1
by the government contract monitor who arranged all monitoring trips to [redacted] 25X1

[redacted] though performing competent work, demonstrated 25X1 little imagination and had to be closely directed by the contract monitor in order to achieve timely conclusion of the work.

The program was completed on time within costs. The scheduled tasks were accomplished in a competent fashion but in reality the subcontractor performed as if he were under a direct contract with the government. The government received very little benefit from the funds expended for [redacted] managing of the sub- 25X1 contract.

The performance was very good and the management of the program minimum acceptable; hence, an overall rating of above average is recommended.
